

Glen Cove Families and Community,

It is with great pleasure that The BullyProof Project invites you to join our 2nd Annual Walk Against Bullying along with Glen Cove Youth Bureau and The Holocaust Memorial & Tolerance Museum.

Bullying is a very real and painful issue our children face, but they shouldn't have to face it alone. Bullying can be prevented if we recognize it and come together to stop it. Not only are the effects of bullying on a child felt immediately, they can and do last a lifetime. Our community has too sadly been touched by the painful consequences of bullying. Children have and continue to commit suicide as a result of bullying.

Together we can enforce the virtues and citizen character building skills of Kindness, Respect, Cooperation, Understanding, Compassion and Unity. Bullying is a worldwide problem that takes a community to come together to raise awareness. Together we can accomplish our mission to stop bullying.

Please feel free to share the flyer with anyone who you think might have an interest. There will be three different trails to choose to walk, including a paved path that is handicap accessible and stroller friendly.

Thank you for taking the time to read this letter and we look forward to seeing you on October 1, 2016.
